Along with easier navigation tools and streamlined user friendly features, one of the highlights of the new PJN website is the Parent-to-Parent Service Offerings Page. The Page encourages, and provides an opportunity for busy parents to send in their services and job needs and solicit supports from other parents and businesses in the local community.

It's free advertising and a great example of parents and the community helping each other. So be sure to check out the page, along with the rest of the PJN website and please take advantage of all that we have to offer...and it's all for free.
